

"Runway Havana" is an immersive exhibition with more than 30 colour and black and white photos, conversational captions, videopgraphies of the streets and sounds that I had collected in the city.

[available on www.fifthanthen.net]

There was endless beauty and humor in the streets of Havana. The mixing and matching of colors changed my perception and heightened my sensitivity. The vitality that the locals shared with me fundamentally influenced me as a being. In the wake of spring, I self-initiated and curated "Runway Havana" so that I can share with my community the temperature, attitude, and humanity I felt...

